The Weather

Windy with snow turning to snow flurries today. Colder tonight with lowest 15. Sunday mostly cloudy and quite cold.

Region Has First Major Snowstorm

A blanket of snow estimated variously as five to six inches descended on the Stroudsburgs and Monroe county last night accompanied by winds and swiftly piling drifts which sent highway workers out in full force to all parts of the county.

The storm started shortly after 1 p.m. yesterday and three hours later the snow measured between two and three quarters and three inches in most areas, according to unofficial measurements. Visibility in low regions was poor.

Traffic tieups began early in the afternoon with one of the first and worst occurring between Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap on Foxtown Hill. Effort mountain highways were tied up shortly thereafter.

In the Stroudsburgs, borough streets were in moderately bad condition throughout late afternoon and last night.

The first highway trucks and workers were sent out from the East Stroudsburg department offices at 1:30 p.m. This contingent was delegated to the Foxtown Hill area.

Late last night highway officials listed 27 trucks, 75 men, seven graders and one truck with underblade among the full force of men and equipment sent out to combat the storm condition.

Warnings of the coming snowstorm appeared early yesterday on weather bulletins sent out by State offices in Allentown and Bethlehem.

At 5:15 p.m. both Brodheadville and Mount Pocono had reported a three-inch snowfall. Unofficial measurements in lower regions varied, but all were larger in proportion than these.

At Mount Pocono cinder trucks began working the routes in mid-afternoon with little or no effect. Officials reported rapidly falling snow covered cinders almost as soon as they had been spread. The truck crews were forced to begin all over again at the same point of departure once they had finished a trip over the highway.

Brodheadville roads were reported "very slippery" with all highway department trucks and workers called into action by late afternoon. At 10 p.m. State police at Brodheadville reported a "bad traffic tieup at Saylorburg." Two patrolmen stationed there to handle the resulting traffic snarl estimated it would take from one to two hours to get "things moving again."

Cinder trucks and plows working the Effort mountain region on routes leading into Wilkes-Barre met with greater success last night than did crews working in lower regions. Traffic conditions on routes in the Effort region were reported as "only moderately serious" and officials believed no hazardous conditions would result. Cinder crews had been working there since early yesterday afternoon.

In Pike county, Milford State police reported "heavy snowfall... roads in extremely bad condition." Highway department workers in and near Milford could not "keep up with conditions." It was still snowing there late last night as it was in almost all portions of Monroe county.

On the highways, huge, sprawling semi-trailers and transports were hit the hardest. Stalled trucks appeared by twos and threes on hills, graded curves and paved areas where the snow had packed under the spinning wheels of other motorists.

Yesterday's snowstorm reached beyond highways to disrupt the normal flow of life in this area. Early last night telephone operators in Stroudsburg began requesting persons placing calls out of the borough to "limit their calls to five minutes, please."

Milford State police, Pike county, notified the East Stroudsburg Metropolitan Edison Co. offices that one of the company's power lines was down at Dingmans Ferry. Company repairmen were dispatched in an effort to insure continued service in that region.

Repercussions from the snow continued to pile up last night. The East Stroudsburg basketball team, scheduled to play an "away" game at Hellertown, started out for its contest from East Stroudsburg at 4:45 p.m. The team arrived at its destination, a distance of about 45 miles, at 10 p.m.

On Route 209 in the Wind Gap vicinity cars were lined up in irregular queues for distance of four to six miles.

Late last night the steady snowfall changed to a moisture-laden mixture between snow and rain, creating new hazards for the motorist and for the highway workers who had labored throughout the day to combat packed snow conditions on the main routes.

Early weather forecasts indicated more snow for eastern Pennsylvania today, turning to rain with some freezing rain in the east and south portions. Slowly rising temperatures were predicted for the area throughout this morning and afternoon, turning much colder tonight.

Calls To Nathan Made From Larson Office

Calls Charged To Head Of U.S. Agency

Washington (AP) — Tax scandals investigators produced evidence last night that long distance phone calls were made from the office of Jess Larson, high government official, to Frank Nathan, who has been named in an alleged $500,000 shakedown plot.

Adrian Dewind, counsel for a House investigating committee, presented the evidence of calls between Larson's office and New York and Miami. He said they were charged to Larson, who is head of the General Services Administration, the government's "house-keeping" agency.

But Nathan, in the witness chair, swore he couldn't remember such calls. He said they might have come from an assistant to Larson.

Abraham Teitelbaum, a former attorney for Capone mobsters, has charged Nathan and another man with trying to shake him down to fix his tax troubles. He said the two claimed to be in league with a "clique" of high Washington officials. He said they mentioned a man named "Larson" as one of the clique.

Larson, appealing before the committee recently, called upon it in the "name of Almighty God" to stop such smearing of government officials. He emphatically denied knowing anything of such a "clique."

He declared he knew Nathan as a man about town who kept bobbing up and sort of making a nuisance of himself. He said he tried his best to shoo Nathan away and had put his name on a "referred list," similar to a list of suspicious persons.

He said these efforts to get rid of Nathan started back in 1948. The evidence produced yesterday was that a phone call to Nathan from Larson's office was made as late as July, 1951.

Nathan suggested the possibility that the calls might have been made by Al Snyder, Larson's assistant, whom Nathan identified as a good friend.

"The only thing I can think of was oil deals," Nathan said, recalling that previously he had tried to obtain all sorts of "deals" in Washington and had communicated numerous times in the past with Larson about oil.

"I swear I don't remember those calls," he said. "I really don't." "You don't want to remember, do you?" asked Byrnes (R-Wis).

"Yes, I do. I promise I do," the witness answered.

He said he "kept bothering" Snyder about oil deals "all the time," adding: "I'm pretty sure that Mr. Snyder called me up about these deals."

He said he and Snyder were in communication frequently around June and July of this year. He "guessed" that Snyder paid the cost of the phone calls.

Asked by Dewind if he ever received long distance calls from Larson's home, Nathan said Larson "might have" called him but not this year. He said he called Larson so many times "he might have called back to see what I wanted."

Larson, he said, "called me Frank."

Nathan said he might have mentioned his acquaintanceship with Larson when discussing "deals" with other people, but he was sure Larson "never helped me out on anything."

The House committee wound up the present phase of its sensation-packed tax investigation last night, and adjourned subject to the call of its chairman. The next business on its agenda is an inquiry into the Internal Revenue office at San Francisco, starting in January.

Salary Board Okays Bonuses

Washington (AP) — The Salary Stabilization board ruled yesterday that employers under its control may give their employees Christmas or year-end bonuses up to $40 this year even though they had not done so in prior years.

The bonus may be either "in cash or in kind."

Generally speaking, the board has jurisdiction over the pay of administrative, executive and professional workers and outside salesmen. The Wage Stabilization board, which handles wage controls for workers represented by unions, issued a similar bonus ruling last month.

HST May Ask Judge Murphy To Play Key Role In Drive To Quash Federal Corruption

Washington (AP)—Judge Thomas F. Murphy, towering New York crime-buster, is coming to Washington to confer with President Truman amid reports that he will play a key role in a drive to quash corruption in the government.

Murphy had an appointment with Mr. Truman at 3:30 p. m. yesterday but was unable to keep it because a snow storm halted air traffic here.

The New Yorker is now expected to see the President today or Monday.

In New York, Murphy termed "a million miles from the truth" a report that he had agreed to serve on an anti-corruption commission to be created by President Truman.

"Up to now I haven't accepted anything," Murphy added. He made no comment, however, on reports that he would see Mr. Truman today or Monday.

Meanwhile, Mr. Truman moved closer to the Saturday night deadline he set for drastic action in the nationwide tax scandals. New

Oliphant Testifies Grunewald Told Him He Was Helping Sen. Bridges On Tax Case

Washington (AP)—Charles Oliphant testified yesterday that Henry W. Grunewald, Washington man of mystery, once told him he was helping Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) on a tax case said to involve "at least six figures."

The case was against H. H. Klein of Baltimore, Oliphant said, and involved a jeopardy tax assessment.

Only the bare outline of the situation was brought out as Oliphant, recently resigned chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, testified for the second day before House tax investigators.

Oliphant said that Grunewald, a close friend, lunched with him one day and asked him about the Klein case, saying he was speaking "on behalf of" Senator Bridges.

Oliphant had just finished testifying that he once rode from Washington to Philadelphia for a football game in a private railroad car and met a "Mr. McBride" whose son "was alleged to own Continental (trading) Press." He said he didn't know whether the car was McBride's.

He also told about being the Florida guest of Poncet Davis, Akron, Ohio, manufacturer whose income tax troubles are currently in the Department of Justice for prosecution, and of accepting hospitality on a grand scale from Troy Whitehead, a Charlotte, N. C., manufacturer. Whitehead also has had tax trouble, but Oliphant said he didn't know this at the time he accepted the hospitality.

There were these new developments as the House Ways and Means subcommittee ended the current phase of its sensational tax probe:

One—The Internal Revenue bureau filed a $51,137 tax lien against Grunewald to secure his assets while the government proceeds to collect 1951 income taxes allegedly owed by Grunewald and his wife, Christine.

Grunewald is secluded in Georgetown hospital, where he is being treated for nervous tension.

Two — Oliphant acknowledged that he tipped off T. Lamar Caudle, then assistant general in charge of tax fraud prosecutions for the Justice department, that Senator Williams (R-De) was inquiring into Caudle's income tax returns.

Wanger Released From Jail In Shooting; Joan Bennett Denies Romance With Lang

Beverly Hills, Calif. (AP) — A shaken Walter Wanger left jail yesterday, 18 hours after shooting his wife's agent. But he didn't go home.

At their $150,000 mansion was Joan Bennett, the glamorous grandmother. She says only business, not romance, brought her and Jennings Lang together in a parking lot Thursday night, where the jealous movie producer twice wounded the younger Lang.

"I shot him because he broke up my home," the white-haired, 57-year-old Wanger was quoted by Police Chief Clinton Anderson.

If Walter thinks there is any romance between us, he is wrong," said Miss Bennett, 41. Lang, 39, is in a hospital, where doctors say he will recover.

Miss Bennett's attorney, Grant Cooper, told newsmen later a divorce had been discussed by the star and her husband because of

Cold Weather Expected To Follow Snow

By The Associated Press

A vast storm, with numbing cold lurking in its wake, struck the midwest yesterday and rampaged eastward.

The storm brought heavy snow, sleet and freezing rain to the midlands. Traffic was snarled, and some schools were closed. At least three deaths were attributed to the weather.

Centered at midday over southern Missouri, the storm raged eastward at 35 to 40 miles an hour. The coldest weather of the season waited behind it.

The blast of Canadian air was expected to blanket the Great Lakes region and midwest northwestward through the great plains during the weekend. Sub-zero temperatures were forecast for northern portions of the area.

By midday yesterday, Iowa City, Ia., had 11 inches of new snow on the ground, with more falling. Omaha, with 10 inches, ordered all schools closed. Travel in or near the city was at a virtual standstill except for the main streets. Two traffic deaths, there were blamed on the weather.

Chicago, with eight inches at noon and a total of 10 to 12 inches expected, mobilized to keep traffic moving. Some 500 men and more than 300 pieces of snow removal equipment were ordered out to clear main traffic arteries by the homebound-bound five p. m. rush hour.

Philadelphia was hit by one of its worst snowstorms as six inches of snow stalled traffic. Only subway and elevated trains were able to move and homeward bound workers jammed them as they left their autos downtown.

The Bell Telephone Co. reported service disrupted in many sections. All air flights into and out of Philadelphia were canceled although train traffic remained near normal. All of Pennsylvania was blanketed by the snow.

Three to five inches of snow blanketed New Jersey and caused the worst traffic jams since the State's big storm of 1947. Car and bus traffic was at a standstill in downtown Newark and Trenton. Pennsylvania railroad trains were running 10 minutes to an hour late.

Snow began late yesterday in New York and by early evening half an inch had fallen. Several plane flights were canceled and ground traffic was slowed.

Highways from Baltimore and Washington leading into western Maryland were closed by heavy snow. The traffic tie-up in Baltimore was termed the worst in the city's history. Stalled cars jammed the downtown section. Some city buses and surface line cars still were operating. Workers and school children alike were stranded in buildings by the snow and lack of transportation.

King Celebrates 56th Birthday

London (AP) — King George VI celebrated his 56th birthday at a royal family luncheon yesterday, then knighted two of the doctors who operated on his ailing lung Sept. 23.

At Buckingham palace the King personally invested C. Price Thomas and Geoffrey Marshall with the insignia of knights commander of the Victorian order.

Millionth Traffic Death Expected On December 22

Chicago (AP) — Someone who will be killed a week from today may be the millionth person to die in traffic since the automobile came into use in the United States.

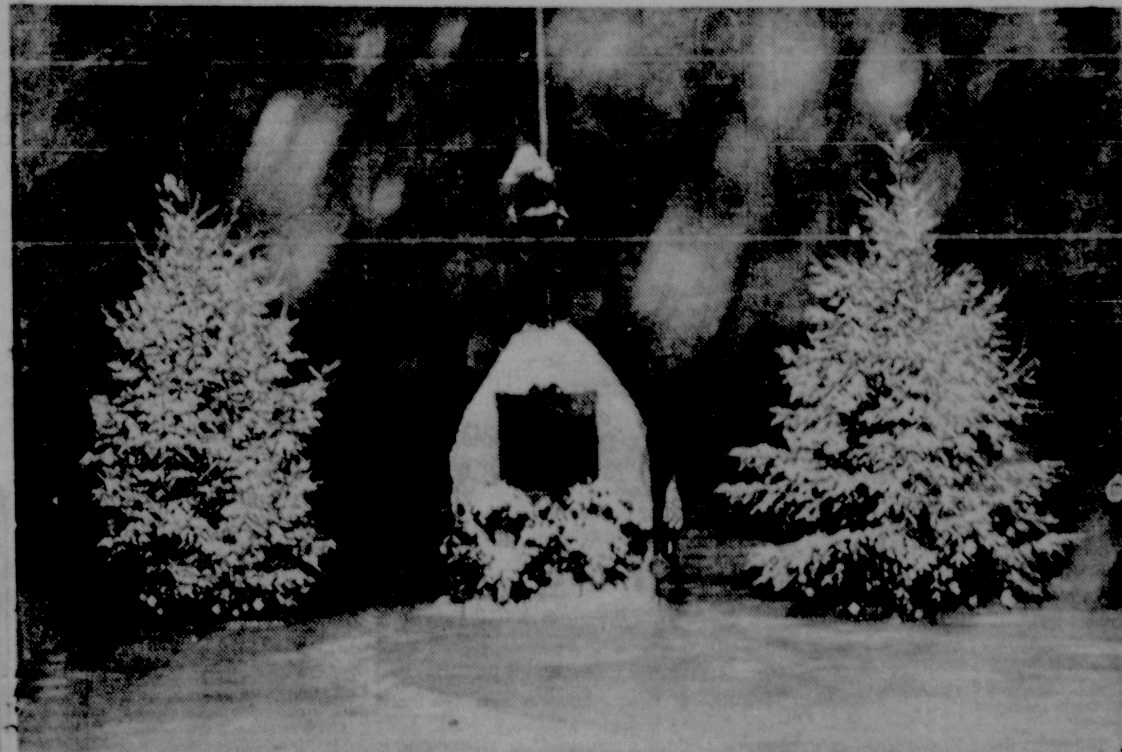

That was the forecast yesterday of the National Safety council after a study of accident reports for the last week. A week ago the council picked December 21 as the likely date but a falling off in deaths the first two weeks of December prompted statisticians to move it back to December 22.

Total deaths as of yesterday were 928,900.

Woman Found Slain

Boston (AP) — The pretty young wife of a theatrical performer was found shot through the head in her bed yesterday—a few hours after she had telephoned police asking their help in getting a gun away from her estranged husband.

The victim was red-haired Dorothy M. Souder, 26, mother of two boys.

NATURE PROVIDED AN EXTRA dash of seasonal trim yesterday to the two Christmas trees in the Stroudsburg courthouse square. Here the trees are shown decked out in their holiday garb of multi-colored lights and a genuine sample of Christmas snow. Lights for the trees were turned on for the first time this week. Car Passenger Critically Hurt In Accident

Daniel Turzto, 66, of Broadway, Wind Gap, former resident of Bangor, was critically injured in a head-on collision of automobiles on Route 512, between Pen Argyl and Wind Gap at 5:15 yesterday afternoon.

Details of the accident were lacking, but police said Turzto was the only person badly hurt. He was removed to Easton hospital in the Wind Gap ambulance, where his condition was reported as critical late last night.

Auto Makers Seek Raises

Washington (AP)—The Office of Price Stabilization said yesterday the Hudson Motor Car Co. and the Kaiser-Frazer Co. had asked for price increases under the Capehart amendment to the economic controls law—the first automobile manufacturers to do so.

OPS officials said the applications were received yesterday and details could not be disclosed as to the amount of the increases sought in price ceilings by Hudson and Kaiser-Frazer on their passenger cars.

The increases would be in addition to an adjustment in prices authorized by the government for auto manufacturers in September.

These increases already have been approved by OPS and new dollars and cents ceilings at retail are being set in a series of orders.

OPS issued an order yesterday setting retail dollars and cents ceilings on 87 different models of General Motors' five major lines of cars. It also set a ceiling of $1795.32 on a General Motor Corp. suburban passenger car.

Another section of the order sets exact ceilings on factory-installed extra, special or optional equipment for all GM cars.

OPS said the ceilings do not represent any change from prices approved for GM several weeks ago.

U. N. Receptive To Talks On Bulk Prisoner Exchange

Munsan, Korea, Saturday, (AP)—Allied and Communist truce negotiators returned to Pannunjom today amid indications of cautious compromise on two thorny issues—prisoner exchange and troop rotation.

Today's sessions opened for 11 a. m.

Twelve days remain to meet the agreed-upon Dec. 27 deadline for an armistice.

Friday's talks produced these two developments which could lead to some agreement:

One—An Allied spokesman said the United Nations delegation would be "more receptive" to discussing bulk exchange of prisoners, providing the Reds produce a "reasonably accurate" total figure of war prisoners they are believed to hold.

Two—The Communist delegation gave ground on the U. N. desire to continue home rotation of troops during an armistice.

On the prisoner issue, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, Allied spokesman, said Allied negotiators would "listen with more favor" to Communist demands for an all-for-all exchange should the Reds produce a list.

"We have no intention of withholding prisoners simply because we have more than they do," Nuckolls added.

He said the Reds disclosed Friday for the first time that they had in the Pannunjom conference table a list of prisoners, but appeared to be "holding it up in an attempt to force the United Nations command into agreement on the bulk exchange."

On the truce supervision question, it was disclosed in Washington that the United States has alerted three nations — Sweden, Norway and Switzerland — that they may be approached to provide "non-belligerent" behind-the-scenes inspection teams — in event of an armistice.

In Stockholm, the Swedish foreign office said Sweden had made no decision.

Senior Choir To Present Yule Program

The Senior choir of the First Presbyterian church in Stroudsburg will present Alfred Wooler's Christmas cantata, "The Manger King" tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. This musical presentation will feature Miss Margaret Oldford, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Farmer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolbert as soloists.

The 22-voice choir will also render the anthem "White Shepherds Watched Their Sheep" by Hugo Jungst. This number will feature an echo quartet. As a prelude a piano-organ duet has been prepared with Mrs. Robert Wolbert at the keyboard and Vernon Imbri at the console. They will play Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

At the 11 a. m. worship hour, the pastor, Rev. Ernest T. Campbell will deliver a sermon on the theme "The Christ Child—Son of Man." This sermon is the companion message of the one delivered last Sunday, "The Christ Child—Son of God."

The Sacrament of Infant Baptism will be administered at this service to Robert Allen Bixler, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Bixler Jr.

The anthem of the morning will feature the Junior and Senior choirs in "Glory to God" by Shoremount. The sanctuary flowers are being presented by the Women's Auxiliary.

At 6:15 the junior youth group of the Stroudsburg Methodist church will meet with the Presbyterian Junior Westminster Fellowship. The two pastors, Rev. Walter Johnston and Rev. Campbell will lead the young people in a study of the Creation narratives in Genesis.

Pastor Lists Sermon Topic

The pre-Christmas service at 11 a. m. Sunday at Grace Ev. Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, will feature a sermon by Rev. W. F. Wunder on the theme: "The Christmas Treasure." He will use the Matthew's gospel narrative of the Nativity as the basis for his sermon.

The chance will be graced with two large 14-foot lighted Canadian spruce trees given by the David Coffman family of Woodland Rd. Mt. Pocono, in memory of sons Clifford and Vincent. The altar flowers will be placed by Mrs. Marjorie Shelley and family in memory of husband and father, Floyd, and son and brother, Franklin. Earl Bush, George Lashak, James Weiss Sr., and James Weiss Jr. will serve as ushers. Miss Elaine Mery and Mrs. Warren McNeil will be in charge of the nursery conducted during the 11 a. m. worship service. The bulletins for the service will be presented by Mrs. Edith Kilgore Klingler in memory of her mother.

The senior church choir will sing the anthem, "Jesus, Joy of My Endeavor," and the Junior choir will sing "Lift Up Your Heads," a choral selection. Miss Leila Bunnell will preside at the console, and C. Alt will direct the choir.

At 6 p. m. the catechetical class will convene, and at 6:30 the Lutheran Youth will meet in the Sunday school chapel with Misses Shirley and Mildred Kulp serving as devotional leaders.

On Thursday night, Dec. 20, the Lutheran Youth will present the Christmas playlet, "Christmas Dream," which will be directed by Miss Shirley Schwartz. More than 40 costumed children, plus a number of Lutheran Youth, will comprise the cast.

The Church points the way to the City of God Where the wanderers find their way home, From the pathways of sin where each mortal hath trod, Till the Father's word bids them to come, In His mansions of glory God waits for His own, Where our souls in glad rapture shall rise; When we see Him at last, where no sorrow is known, God shall wipe every tear from our eyes.

The Church points the way to forgiveness and peace, For the ones who will humbly seek God; Through His mercy and grace we can find sweet release From the sorrows we meet on the road, O the joys we encounter when wandering long We return to the Father's one day; O'er the weeping and tears rise a tumult of song For the child who has come home to stay.

The Church points the way to redemption and rest; And the weary who long for God's peace, Find His grace is sufficient to meet every test As their faith in His promise increase, There is life everlasting and love flowing free, Like a fountain of life-giving streams; All the blessings of heaven are waiting for thee Through the Saviour who loves and redeems.

The Church points the way to thanksgiving and praise For the blessings God sends day by day; There are joys for the humble who walk in His ways, And abide by His precepts always, Like the stars in the skies we can count but a few Of the mercies that come from above; Every promise of life that inspires us anew, Is a sign of our Father's great love.

The Church points the way to the Christ of the Cross Who alone has the power to save; When we know Him in truth we shall count all but loss For the victory He gives o'er the grave, When the trumpet shall sound and the ransomed shall rise To meet Him whom we love and adore; In the mansions prepared for our souls in the skies We shall dwell with our Lord evermore.

Elder Unruh Here Today

Elder T. E. Unruh, Reading, Pa., president of the East Pennsylvania conference of Seventh-day Adventists, will be the guest speaker at worship services in the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist church, Second St., at the 11:00 a. m. worship service today.

The guest speaker will be here at the invitation of the church pastors, Russell R. Adams. The services will be directed by the pastor assisted by the church elder, Donald Smith.

Elder Unruh directs in all Adventist church activities in eastern Pennsylvania. Before coming to Pennsylvania five years ago he served as president of the Wisconsin conference of Adventists.

Methodists Prepares For Service

After months of activity in all fields of endeavor, the membership of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church comes to one of the most decisive services of the church year and the high point of the advent season on Sunday at 7:30 p. m. The white gift service which has continued across the past 18 years is each year an occasion of unusual spiritual victory.

The program of music this year is as follows: "All My Heart This Night Rejoices," Voice, Justin Feltham; quartet, Anne George, Mary Paul, Howard Atwell, Paul Bartholomew.

"Birthday of A King," solo by Michael Hannon; "There Were Shepherds Abiding In The Field," soloists, Gertrude Hippler, Mary Paul; "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," solo by Howard Atwell.

"Sleep, Holy Babe," soloist, Mary Paul; "O Lovely Voices Of The Sky," solo by Anne George; "Carol Of The Little King," soloist Mary Paul. Howard Atwell.

"Behold That Star," Waring arrangement, soloist, Michael Hannon; "Gesù Bambino," duet, Ann George, Mary Paul; "The Road To Bethlehem," soloist, Michael Hannon.

Members of the official family and the church school council of workers, organization leaders, all have united in an intensive effort to make this year's service truly the beginning of a new era.

Doe Deer Kill In County Exceptionally Light On Opening Day

Snow Makes Hunting Next To Impossible

Only a handful of the expected 4,500 antlerless deer hunters made an appearance in Monroe county yesterday for the opening day of this year's two-day season.

Game Protectors John Doebeling, Stroudsburg and Paul Failor, Mount Pocono both listed the first-day hunting as "extremely low". In almost all areas there were fewer than half as many hunters yesterday as there had been on the opening day of the buck season.

Doe kill in the county was "exceptionally low". There was only one violation, according to Failor.

A heavy snow which began early yesterday and continued throughout last night cut visibility and made hunting "next to impossible," according to some veteran hunters.

Observers said the apathy of some hunters toward the killing of doe deer combined with yesterday's snowstorm to cut down on the number of hunters taking to the woods. Another factor, it was pointed out, is the State law which limits the number of deer taken to one by each hunter. Thus, anyone killing a buck during the season which closed Thursday is not permitted to bring down a doe.

The one violation occurred in Tobyhanna when an eager hunter brought down a nine-point buck out of season. He was apprehended almost immediately by Failor.

At Brady's Lake gate — an ordinarily popular and accessible hunting spot — Failor counted only 42 cars parked yesterday as opposed to 98 vehicles parked there the first day of buck season.

Harrisburg (AP) — A driving snowstorm provided the fan-fare for thousands of hunters who braved freezing weather on the opening of the official two-day antlerless deer season in Pennsylvania.

The State Game commission previously estimated that about 225,000 nimrods would be tracking doe during the brief open season scheduled to close today at 5 p.m.

But the unexpected fury of the pre-Winter blast prompted an official yesterday to state that an anticipated heavy kill probably would be cut down considerably due to weather conditions.

Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the Game commission, said hazardous road conditions kept many of the would-be hunters from ever reaching deer territory. He added:

"Heaven only knows how many others were snowed in at hunting camps if they did reach them before the worst of the storm hit. We won't start receiving official reports from district game protectors until late Saturday."

Frye said 1,500 to 1,800 deputy wardens had been sent to the field along with regular game protectors to enforce Game commission rules.

At least two fatalities were reported in connection with opening day of the brief season. A heart attack suffered after he shot a deer killed Grover C. Nicholas, 65, of near Jamestown, Mercer county.

Frank L. McManus, 70, of Warren, died of a heart attack shortly after he returned from a hunting trip at Heart's Content, near Warren.

East Bangor G. I. Injured In Korea

Bangor — Mrs. Ethel Meixsell, S. Broad St., East Bangor, has received word from the Department of Defense, Washington, that her son, Pvt. Vincent E. Meixsell was injured in U. S. Army action in the Korean area.

A CAPACITY CROWD FILLED Stroudsburg High school's gymnasium last night attend the annual Sophomore class dance, the "Huddle Hop," in honor of the school's football team. Despite an uncooperative slap from nature in the form of the season's first severe snowstorm, Stroudsburg students turned out in force to enjoy dancing to the music of Bill Diehl's orchestra and to honor the players on their team. Prisoners Sentenced By Court

Several prisoners who had pleaded guilty to charges preferred against them for violations of criminal laws appeared before Judge Fred W. Davis for sentencing at an adjourned session of court at 10 a. m. yesterday.

Roy G. Isley, 29, of 15 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, who had pleaded guilty to an involuntary manslaughter charge, was sentenced to pay costs of prosecution and undergo imprisonment in the Monroe county jail for one year, the term to be computed from Oct. 21, when he was committed. Attorney Forrest Mervine represented the prisoner.

Isley was arrested following a hit and run crack up Oct. 21 on Route 611 in Tobyhanna when Willis Ensminger, 76, of that place, was struck and knocked down. He was seriously injured and died later at Monroe County General hospital, East Stroudsburg.

George James McIntyre, of Bushkill, and Floyd Ernest Pugh, 21, of Sarah St., Stroudsburg, who pleaded guilty to burglary charges, were ordered committed to the Pennsylvania Industrial home, Camp Hill. Attorney Forrest Mervine appeared in behalf of the defendants. Judge Davis informed the two men their stay at Camp Hill depended on their behavior.

McIntyre and Pugh were taken into custody originally when they had and another young man wrecked their car in efforts to escape from game protectors to answer a violation of game laws in killing deer out of season. On that charge they were sentenced to 207 days in the county jail in default of $200 fines and $650 costs.

The burglaries to which they had pleaded guilty were committed at the Henry Schnitzer and John A. Pennington homes in Middle Smithfield township, Empire Box Co. Inc. and C. C. Scholla garage in Stroudsburg. Officer Charles Allen and State Trooper Alex G. Kearn were prosecutors.

Fred Hineine, of East Stroudsburg, who had pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge and had been in jail since Sept. 26 in default of payment of costs of prosecution and $300 fine, appeared before court and made a plea for release from prison. The court granted the request and amended the sentence requiring him to pay costs and fine in $5 weekly installments.

Morgan Williams, of Scranton, who had pleaded guilty of stealing a suit case containing $3,085 worth of furs belonging to Harry Left, proprietor of the Vogue fur shop, Scranton, while the latter was asleep in a car in a Lackawanna railroad passenger train, was re-committed to the Monroe county jail until the February term of court. Having no counsel, Judge Davis named Attorney Maxwell H. Cohen to represent him.

Court adjourned to Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 10 a. m. at which time appeals from summary convictions and other matters will be taken up. It is also possible that Alvyda Duane Bidwell, of Blakey, will also be brought before the court on the jail-break charge.

Senate Drops Congressional District In Philly; Wayne, Pike Added To Lackawanna

Harrisburg, (AP)—The Senate last night amended a congressional reapportionment plan with the idea of lopping off a district in Philadelphia.

The change is intended to merge the districts of two Philadelphia Democrats—Reps. Earl Chudoff and William T. Granahan.

The amendment to a bill sponsored by Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (R-Lancaster) previously had been agreed upon by Senate Republicans in efforts to reduce Pennsylvania's congressional districts from 33 to 30.

Vice Chairman A. H. Letzler (R-Clearfield) of the Senate Reapportionment committee emphasized that there was no finality on the agreement.

As under previous plans, the districts of Reps. Vera Buchanan, McKeesport Democrat, and Joseph L. Carrige, Susquehanna Republican, would be eliminated.

The preliminary choice of Philadelphia for the loss of the third seat was made after objections to previous plans to cut out a district in either central or southwestern Pennsylvania.

The 14th district, now represented by Carrige who recently succeeded the late Rep. Wilson D. Gillette, would seek the bulk of its counties tacked on to Lackawanna county for a new district.

Lackawanna is the only county in the district of Rep. Harry P. O'Neill, Scranton Democrat. He would see his re-election chances reduced by the addition of Republican-dominated Susquehanna, Sullivan, Wyoming, Wayne and Pike counties to his district.

The remainder of the Carrige district—Bradford, Columbia and Montour would be transferred to the 15th district now represented by Rep. Alvin R. Bush, Muncy Republican.

Bush's district now includes McKean, Potter, Tioga, Cameron, Clinton and Lycoming counties. He would lose McKean to Rep. Leon H. Gavin, Oil City Republican.

East Bangor — "Unto You a Saviour is Born," an outdoor Christmas pageant, will be presented in front of Grace Lutheran church, East Bangor, on Sunday at 7 p. m. The pageant, written by Rev. Richard D. Bergman, pastor of Grace church, will take place on the natural stage composed of the landscaping before the church.

The members of the Luther league will present this unique Christmas program which proclaim anew the birth of the Saviour. Preparation of the scenery, costumes and musical background are in charge of the young people of the church.

In case of inclement weather, the pageant will be held on Sunday night, December 30.

Deer Hunters Suffer Burns At Cottages

That deer hunters may be victims of unexpected accidents other than accidental shooting or heart attacks, is evidenced by the fact that two men are being treated at the Monroe County General hospital for severe burns suffered at their cabins in the woods.

The latest victim is Theodore D. Hoffman, of Marshalls Creek who was admitted Wednesday night after having met with injuries during the afternoon.

Hoffman was a member of a party occupying Slip-In cabin, located between Porters Lake and Dingmans Ferry in Pike county. Reports from the camp indicate that some one had placed a receptacle filled with boiling water back of a chair on which Ted had been sitting, with his hunting boots off his feet. When he stepped back, his right foot landed in the scalding water.

There was no car at the cabin at the time and he was assisted to a nearby cabin, placed in a vehicle and brought to the hospital, where it was revealed the foot was affected with second degree burns. His condition was reported as satisfactory and he expects release in a few days, it was disclosed last night.

William Knox, of Ransbury Ave., East Stroudsburg, was the other hunter who suffered burns. This happened last Saturday when a pressure cooker exploded in Long Ford lodge, a cabin located back of the Beaver Run club in Pike county.

Knox suffered body burns, his attending physician reported. Clement Wiedimyer, who had been on a hunting trip, brought Knox to the hospital. "Knox" was also reported in good condition at the hospital last night.

Guidance Unit Meets At School

The advisory committee to the technical department of East Stroudsburg High school held its first meeting of the year Thursday night at the school.

Making up the committee are men from industrial units in this area who serve as foremen or personnel directors in the plants in which they are employed. The industrial committee assists in the training of young men still in high school for jobs in metal and woodworking factories.

At this week's preliminary meeting the advisers discussed a potential program of study to be used with students during the school year.

Those present at the meeting were Charles Reid, superintendent at Patterson-Kelley; Giles Burlingame, Hughes Publishing Co.; Edward Telling, Line Material; Delbert France, Worthington Mower and the following faculty members of the school: Carl T. Secor, supervising principal; Charles Schaller, head of the Industrial Arts department and Ralph O. Burrows, principal of the High school.

Edward Telling and Delbert France gave a report on the work done in the past by the Education committee of the Monroe County Foreman's and Industrial club, highlighting the guidance services offered by the club's 130 members to East Stroudsburg High school students.

Faculty members expressed their enthusiasm for the project and their gratitude to the foremen for their willingness to cooperate with the school in the training of students for industrial employment.

Following a tour of inspection of the school shop facilities, it was decided to hold the next meeting of the committee on Thursday, Jan. 10, 1952.

Each of the representatives was given a copy of the architect's plans for a proposed new shop building at the school to take home with him for further study.

Station WVPO To Broadcast Sunday Service

The Christmas worship service of the Stroudsburg Methodist church will be broadcast over Station WVPO Sunday at 11 a. m. Rev. Walter S. Johnston will preach on the theme: "If Christmas Comes." The music will be provided by the three choirs of the church.

Men's night will be observed at the Christmas vesper service at 7:30 p. m. A volunteer chorus made up of the men and boys of the congregation will sing some of the favorite carols of the season. The Boy Scouts and the Cubs together with their parents and friends and the managing committees of each group will attend this service in a body. The charters for the coming year will be presented to each group by the general officers. The minister will bring a brief message on "How Far Is It To Bethlehem?"

MISS BETTEJO GOODALL, vocal music instructor in the East Stroudsburg schools is shown here (back to camera) conducting a rehearsal of the 245-voice mixed chorus which will present a Christmas concert at the East Stroudsburg Junior High school Wednesday night, Dec. 19. The concert will be presented a second time Friday, Dec. 21 in the afternoon for the benefit of students. (Daily Record photo)

Combined Choral Groups Of East Stroudsburg Schools To Give Christmas Concert

One of the highlights of this holiday season will occur next Wednesday night at East Stroudsburg Junior High auditorium, when the combined choral groups of that school and the East Stroudsburg High school, stage an elaborate "Christmas choral concert."

The concert, under the direction of Miss Bettejo Goodall, vocal music teacher at the schools, will be given in two performances. The first of these—Wednesday night—is for the benefit of the public. A second performance for students of both schools, will be given Friday afternoon, Dec. 21, again at the Junior High school.

A large group of faculty members from the schools have cooperated in the planning, rehearsal and actual production of the choral work and tableaux which tell the story of the Nativity in song, pantomime and excerpts from the Scriptures.

Committees for the event and their faculty chairmen are as follows:

Serving as narrator for the concert, combining the written descriptive passages from the Bible with the pantomime scenes depicting the Nativity story will be Ralph Bender.

Other committees and their faculty supervisors are the publicity committee—Ralph Burrows, John Eckart, Elston Arnt; programs—Mrs. Harriet Hanjils, Charles Schaller; curtains—John Smeltz; physical appearance—Theodore Miller; acolytes—Ruth Flory; angels—Earl Miller and Charles Boltz.

Music and arrangements for the entire program are under the direction of Miss Goodall.

Fire Perils Entire Block At Carbondale

Carbondale, Pa.—Fire threatened an entire block in downtown Carbondale last night as merchants officially started their night openings to accommodate Christmas shoppers.

It began in the three-story Reese Brothers furniture store which quickly collapsed. Four dwellings in the rear of the store were destroyed, making eight families temporarily homeless.

The blaze continued out of control as stores and apartments on Church St. between Salem and Lincoln Aves. were evacuated.

Carbondale firemen called for aid from Scranton, 16 miles south, and about 12 smaller communities in the midvalley area.

No one was reported injured. The furniture store and nearby

Scout registration of the council is 2,642, the highest in its history. There are 120 active units in the area.

Announcement was made the annual council dinner would be at Hotel Easton on Feb. 9.

Pretty Winter Wedding Held At Parsonage

Tannersville — Miss Betty Jane Werkheiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Werkheiser, of Tannersville, last night became the bride of James Snyder Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Snyder Sr., of Stroudsburg at 7:30 in the parsonage of the Tannersville Methodist church.

Rev. Garnett L. Zimmerman, pastor of the Tannersville Lutheran parish, performed the double ring ceremony in front of the fireplace with a bright fire and Christmas decorations making a pretty setting.

The bride wore a gray tailored suit with a black velvet Juliette cap trimmed with rhinestones, and a corsage of Talisman roses. They were unattended with Mrs. Zimmerman serving as witness.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride for the members of the immediate families.

The bride is a graduate of Pocono Township High school, and is employed at F. W. Woolworth Co., Stroudsburg. Mr. Snyder attended the schools of Smithfield Township, and is employed at the Art Metal Co., East Stroudsburg.

They will reside in their newly-furnished home on Foxtown Hill.

Dames Of Malta To Entertain Knights, Families

St. John's Sisterhood, Dames of Malta will meet Monday night with a Christmas party following the business meeting. Knights of Malta and their families are invited guests.

A play "Station XMAS" will be presented, and 50-cent gifts will be distributed by Santa, who will also present gifts to the children.

There will be a play rehearsal at 2:30 on Sunday afternoon.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon, Mrs. Carl Beck, Mrs. Raymond Jewell of Mt. Bethel, Mrs. E. L. Kennedy, Mrs. Ernest Courtney, Mrs. Raymond Transue, Mrs. Ethel Seeley, Mrs. Raymond Scott, Mrs. Henry Webb, Mrs. Ruth Williams, Mrs. Charles Hilferty and the hostess, Mrs. Strunk of town.

Cubs Present Christmas Gifts, Receive Awards

At the meeting of Cub Pack 27 at the St. John's Lutheran church, the den presented the Christmas gifts they had made for their mothers with Den 1 presenting Christmas corsages and Den 2 wastebaskets.

The Cubs themselves received the badges and pins they had earned. Wolf badges were awarded Frank Buck and Ernest Kemmerer, and service pins for one year membership were presented to Frank Buck, Arthur Cusack, Robert Ford, John Barron and Robert Rehn, of Den 1; and James Sisco, Ernest Kemmerer, Jeffrey Bush and Richard Littlefield, of Den 2.

The boys also received their pack numerals, community strip and den number to add to their uniforms, and Cubmaster Fred Spring presented them with "Doodles" in which to record their progress.

Den 2 received the flag for having the most parents present, and Den 1 for the best exhibit.

The next pack meeting will be held February 8 with a covered dish supper and a program on "Stars, Planets and Space Ships."

Helping Hands, New Church Group Is Organized

Swiftwater — The Helping Hands of the East Swiftwater Reformed church held their December meeting on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Walter Davis.

This organization was recently formed to help earn money for the church fund. At this meeting, Christmas corsages were made to sell; after which they all enjoyed supper, followed by an exchange of gifts.

Those present were: Sandra Lindstedt, Thomas Lindstedt, Mrs. John Lindstedt, Judy Nelson, Douglas Nelson, Donald Coffman, Ruth Ann Coffman, Larry Hardy, Lewis Davis, and the hostess, Mrs. Davis.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, that did it — chased the doe hunters home from the hills, the Christmas shoppers from the grim pursuit of that illusive gift, the cans off the streets—and the big plans for Saturday sky-high.

We've had enough warnings — the skies spitting snow, the cold, and the scudding clouds — but everybody was certainly caught with their boots at home.

"Dreaming of a White Christmas" sort of loses its appeal when it means basketball game time going by with the team sitting in stalled buses, dance-bound girls dragging their ruffles through the snow, still smarting under the indignity of having to wear boots over their party slippers.

Just made it cozy, though, for the folks who could stay safe at home. Just emphasized the fire-lit setting of the Snyder wedding at Tannersville where they only had to cross the road to the parsonage. And it made home a haven that you felt you never, never wanted to leave again once you gained its sanctuary.

Listen To Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:05 a.m.

Children And Members Join In Christmas Party Held By Progressive Woman's Club

Saylorsburg — There were about 100 members and 40 children present for the Christmas meeting of the Progressive Woman's club of Saylorsburg held Wednesday night at the Chestnut Hill High school auditorium at Brodheadsville. The meeting opened with the club singing "Silent Night" and the Christmas story from St. Luke, read by Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman. Mrs. Hayden Murphy read the club collect.

Children and members were greeted by Mrs. Marvin Krome, club president. During the short business meeting, it was decided to purchase a $5 Tuberculosis bond. Mrs. Wesley Shafer, emphasized the need of blood donors telling of the Red Cross bloodmobile which will be at the Veteran of Foreign War home in Stroudsburg, on December 20.

Two new members were received into the club, Miss Clara Kretzing and Mrs. Willard Kresge. Mrs. Thomas Reinhart told of the new project being started this year by the club. Teen-age dances, the first to be held soon in the high school auditorium, alternating at the Fire Hall in Saylorsburg.

The sum of $21.96 was cleared from the five progressive card parties, and more are being planned for latter part of the month. Welfare collection was taken, to be used when necessary.

The club program chairman, Mrs. George Haffler, introduced the children who took part. Recitations were given by James Hinton, Wanda Martin, Robert Davenport, Robert Hinton, Dwight Heist, Billy Gethens, Nancy Mackes, Billy Martucci, Sharon Mills, Cynthia Raughley, Maryd Krome, Jeffery Hinton, Billy Shiffer, Barry Shupp, and Wanda and Sandra Martin.

Rebecca Doney played a piano solo, Nancy Reinhart presented a toe ballet, Judy Gould and Lee Shupp sang a duet, accompanied on piano by Mrs. James Gould. Sandra Martin presented a piano solo. Cathann and Nina Bonser sang a duet, and were accompanied on piano by their mother, Mrs. Oscar Bonser.

Bryan and Melanie Fenner gave a tap dance while Gail Feller sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Franklin Christman, Suzanne Shiffer and Patricia Murphy sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Arlington Martin. Earl Budge sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Frank Schick, and John Hinton played two piano solos.

Three short moving pictures were shown for the children before Santa Claus. Santa talked to the children and danced a jig, before he passed out a gift for each one.

The auditorium was decorated in holiday fittings, as was the cafeteria, where refreshments were served by the following hostesses:

Class Meets Tonight
The Palestine class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church will meet tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Eisenhart, East Stroudsburg, for their annual Christmas party with exchange of gifts.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

I wonder if you have ever tried to drive through Quaker Alley in the morning and early afternoon hours, particularly around Christmas time? This is the alley running from Fifth to Sixth streets directly back of Wyckoff's . . . or I should say, between Wyckoff's, since practically all of the buildings there are part of the extensive Wyckoff-Sears operation.

If you have, you know what a beehive of activity it always is. In addition to the customers' parking lot, and the 20 Wyckoff trucks scurrying on their exciting yuletide errands, there is an occasional I. J. Fox truck with a wonderful cargo of fur. And every day there are carriers filled to overflowing with toys, china, lamps, furniture, and all the things that bring beauty and comfort to the Wyckoff customer. Stock comes in one door and goes out the other in a constant steady stream, that makes the store ever-exciting, ever-interesting, and, to my mind, something like a piece of iridescent silk that is indescribably fascinating.

Just a few days ago, for instance, the despair of many a woman shopper's heart was our men's department. Not that it was anyone's fault. It just happened that everything was selling so fast, there just wasn't anything to be had in the size or color you wanted. That is no longer true. Just yesterday more shipments arrived, and Bud Altenuis proudly displays an unbroken line of Holbrook rayon shirts at $8.95 in gray, maroon, tan, forest green, and navy, as well as Sinterex cotton flannel sport shirts in a variety of plaids. Sanforized, naturally . . . and far richer in appearance than the $3.99 price tag suggests. Both types of shirts come in small, medium, medium large and large.

Bud also offers a newly-arrived handkerchief that's definitely something to blow about! Three, boxed together, sell for $1, but the outstanding features are the fine quality cotton lawn, the rolled, hand-stitched hem, and the delicately worked initial.

If he's a very special man, he deserves a very special gift, right? Well, that's the question . . . and you've just read the answer!

Holiday Mail Rush Starts In Boroughs

Announcement was made by Postmaster Norman B. Gregory, that the windows at the East Stroudsburg postoffice will be open until 6 p. m. today for the convenience of patrons. The usual closing hour Saturday is 1 p. m.

It was also disclosed that extra help will be on the job today to facilitate the handling of the steadily increasing holiday volume of mail. This will be increased until the holiday business reaches its peak.

There is no change of closing hour at the Stroudsburg office today which will be 1 p. m., as usual. However, because of the holiday mail becoming heavier, extra help has been taken on at the office which will also be increased as necessity requires.

Bangor Elks To Support Blood Program

Bangor — Bangor lodge of Elks, at its meeting last night, voted 100 per cent cooperation with Grand Exalted Ruler Howard Davis' plan to accumulate one million pints of blood in Elksdom for the armed forces and blood banks in the country.

Exalted Ruler Russell K. Harris will head a committee of the lodge to have the members contribute their share. A donation of $25 was made toward the Christmas lighting project in the borough.

The exalted ruler also gave a report on the annual memorial service of the lodge in place of the leading knight, Walter Hughes, chairman.

Russell Shook, chairman of the New Year Eve party, stated that nearly all the reservations had been taken up. He also gave details of the entertainment provided.

It was reported that Past Exalted Ruler James Sleeman, who resides in Stroudsburg, had been discharged from the University of Pennsylvania hospital Thursday and would celebrate his birthday today.

The Ramsey kindergarten class, taught by Miss Cynthia Doan, visited the Morey kindergarten yesterday morning to see Jim, the Crow, and the Christmas tree decorated with hand-made decorations.

Mrs. Ethel Farleigh, Morey teacher, read two Christmas stories and the groups joined in carols and rhythms, and in feeding peanuts to the crow.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Andy Andress and his 297 bowling accomplishment dominated the Monroe County athletic scene yesterday, as the discussion concerning three bally pins in the final frame was heard in several spots throughout the area. The accomplishment of the Red Top Tavern kegler brought about some recalling by the bowling veterans of the area and taiph "Pete" Arnold was the first to inform this writer to his knowledge it was the highest ever rolled in this neck of the woods, in league competition. Jake Nittel, regarded by many as "Mr. Bowling" in this locality, seconded Arnold's statement.

Nittel could recall a pair of 300 games, but neither was rolled in league action. Joe Yutz rolled a perfect contest on the number three alley at Frank and Mays, now the Pocono Bowling Center, and Jim Harmon Sr. rolled a perfect game on his own alleys some years in the past. Nittel's top game in his long career was a 296 tilt, but this wasn't in league competition either. Andress, who is only one part of a bowling family, apparently is a new record holder among Monroe County keglers.

It was also learned last night that the Monroe County Singles and Doubles Handicap Bowling Tournament had attracted 177 entries into the singles division, to be rolled at the Pocono Bowling Center, and 57 in the doubles bracket, listed for the Harmon alleys. The deadline for entries into both divisions is tomorrow at midnight, but it was learned last night that any stragglers that care to enter will be accepted to fill in some of the spots vacant in the various shifts.

The total of 177 singles entries is slightly off the pace set last year when some 185 men took part in this division of the tournament. However, the 57 doubles teams entered is almost twice as many as 1950, when 30 doubles combinations took part in the division won by the team of Dick and Harry Andress, brothers of Thursday's high game kegler. Although only 57 teams are entered in the doubles activity at the present time, the total of teams entries may go as high as 61, it was learned last night. This is the first time in the three-year history of the event that it has been held on two different alleys.

Stan Kuplinski, former Tobyhanna Township High school basketball star, is a member of the Naval Academy plebe basketball team this year and in the initial game of the season came up with a total of 18 markers. Stan is scheduled to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in Pocono Summit. Woodrow Jones, president of the Blue Mountain League, is presenting the President's Cup strictly on his own this year, to Pocono A. C., winning team in the post-season playoff series. In the past the trophy had been sponsored by various industries.

Walter Hicks, veteran football coach at Wilson Borough High school, reportedly has forwarded a letter to the board of education stating that he is not a candidate for re-appointment next year. Among those rumored in the running for the job is Jack Kist, current popular head football coach at East Stroudsburg High school. The East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball team will attempt to lick the glare problem and Trenton Teachers on the latter's boards this afternoon. The glare is caused by afternoon action, which is a common practice at Trenton.

Bill Leckonby, head football coach at Lehigh University, was the featured speaker at the Slatington High school football banquet on Thursday. Leckonby spoke at the East Stroudsburg High school grid banquet last year. "Pistol Pete" Pasko, Catasauqua, and Earl "Chick" Craig, Phillipsburg, N. J., have signed to play with the Williamsport Billies, of the Eastern Professional Basketball League. Both Craig and Pasko have had vast professional experience, with the latter holding the distinction of being the top single game and season point producer in the history of ESSTC basketball.

East Stroudsburg High wasn't the only team to arrive on the scene of a basketball game at 10 p. m. yesterday. South Philadelphia put in its appearance for a contest with Allentown at the same time and like the Eastburg-Hellertown encounter, the game wasn't played. The season's first real snow storm raised havoc with the entire basketball schedule throughout Pennsylvania, but did bring the outdoor winter sports into their own for the first time this year.

Snow Forces Postponement Of Three Cage Battles In Area

Last night's first real snow storm to strike Pennsylvania caused postponement of three scheduled basketball games and made traveling to other risky business in Monroe County and surrounding area.

Stroudsburg High school's junior varsity invasion of Pocono Pines for a battle with the Tobyhanna Township varsity was postponed and will now be played on Monday, January 28, it was announced last night by Joe Kovarik, Stroudsburg Junior High coach.

The Junior High contingent will also meet the TTHS junior varsity on January 28. The seventh and eighth grade members of the Stroudsburg Junior High quintet will play host to a similar cage machine from Portland on Monday, at 4 p. m., on the Stroudsburg High court.

No Date Set
Coolbaugh, with two straight wins to its credit, was halted by the weatherman in its bid for three straight, as its scheduled contest with Milford, at Tobyhanna, was postponed indefinitely. Milford scored a 40-37 victory over Coolbaugh in the opening game of the season for both teams.

However, it is very improbable that the game will be played, Coolbaugh coach Don Wismer announced last night, due to the fact that both teams are short on open dates during the present campaign. Tuesday, January 8 is Coolbaugh's only open date, while Milford is reportedly booked solid until March.

A Wayne County Conference contest between Greene-Dreher-Sterling and defending title holder Waymart, listed for Newfoundland, was also postponed because of snow clogged and slippery roads. No new date has been set for the contest, but it is expected to be sometime after the first of the year.

Newton continued to dominate the game in the third period, 14-7, but both teams tapered off to a 3-3 deadlock during the final eight minutes of action.

Blairtown saved some face by coming up with a 19-12 victory over Newton in the junior varsity contest.

Storm Scores Verdict Over Eastburg Quintet

Bangor Also Falls Before Snow, Ice

Winter's first official blast prevented East Stroudsburg and Bangor High schools from filling Lehigh-Northampton league basketball dates last night, when one team was turned back by the storm and the other made a trip of some 40 miles in vain.

East Stroudsburg, with one victory to its credit against league competition, had been listed to oppose Hellertown, regarded as the team to beat for circuit laurels this year, on the Hellertown court. However, the Cavaliers didn't arrive on the scene until 10 p.m., it was reported by way of a telephone conversation, after leaving East Stroudsburg at 4:45 p.m.

It was learned shortly before press time last night that nothing had happened to the bus carrying the East Stroudsburg team, but that it was constantly halted by traffic jams en route.

The Cavaliers stopped at a diner below Wind Gap and called Hellertown, advising of conditions. Hellertown authorities reportedly asked the Cavaliers to continue their trip. However, the final portion of the journey took much longer than anticipated.

Hellertown and East Stroudsburg are scheduled to play the game next Wednesday, on the former's home court.

Victory
East Stroudsburg had opened the present campaign with a 53-25 decision over Nazareth last Tuesday.

Bangor reportedly reached a point six miles south of Wind Gap before being forced to turn around and retrace its course. The Slaters had been scheduled to oppose Coplay, another Lehigh-Northampton League power.

Dave Thomas, Bangor athletic manager, and Coplay's athletic manager are scheduled to agree on a new date sometime today.

Bangor and East Stroudsburg are slated to oppose each other on Tuesday, on the N. Courtland St. hardwood.

Sun Beau's Home Sold

New Market, Va. (AP) — The sprawling Court Manor estate, one of the show places of the Shenandoah Valley and the farm which produced the one-time race horse great Sun Beau, was sold yesterday for an estimated $350,000.

The buyer was F. Edwin Mower, a cattleman and lumber dealer of Charleston, W. Va.

Mower purchased the 1,000-acre estate, which lies adjacent to U. S. Route 11 four miles south of New Market, from Court Manor, Inc., whose principle owner is Don R. Simpson, a Somerset, Pa., coal mine operator.

Village
Court Manor, which fronts for three-quarters of a mile along both sides of U. S. 11, is almost a village in itself. There are 29 residences and a total of 100 buildings on its acreage.

The late Willis Sharpe Kilmer is said to have spent a million and a half dollars developing Court Manor. It was Kilmer, who once published a newspaper at Binghamton, N. Y., who maintained a stud farm that bred some of the nation's best race horses.

The most famous horses were Sun Briar and Sun Beau, Sun Beau, which returned his owner $376,744 for winning 33 races during the period 1931-40, was the world's second leading money winner during that period.

Villanova Names Football Captain

Philadelphia (AP) — Fullback Bob Haner of Louisville, Ky., was elected captain of the 1952 Villanova College football team, it was announced yesterday.

Haner succeeds Co-Captains Joe Rilo of Coaldale, Pa., and the late Nick Liotta of Everett, Mass. Rilo and Liotta piloted their team to a five win, three loss season this year.

Junior
The Kentuckian is a junior in the school of commerce and finance. He was in the fullback slot regularly this season and was a consistent ground gainer.

Maryland, Clemson Put On Probation

Richmond, Va. (AP) — The Southern Conference last night placed the University of Maryland and Clemson College on probation for one year and prohibited them from playing other member schools in football except in games required by state statutes.

The vote placing the two schools on probation and inflicting the football schedule boycott was 12-5. The action was taken because Maryland and Clemson violated conference regulations by accepting football bowl invitations without the league's approval.

Earlier yesterday, the conference voted 14-3 against granting permission to Maryland to play in the Sugar Bowl New Year's afternoon. Afterwards, however, Dr. H. C. "Curly" Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, said his school planned to keep the engagement with Tennessee just the same.

Special Motion

By special motion of Irvin Stewart, president of West Virginia University, the conference made its one other concession to the schools on probation — they may play a football game with each other. This move was unanimous.

After the action, Frank Howard, head football coach at Clemson, said: "I don't think it's right . . ."

And G. F. Eppley, Maryland's faculty chairman of athletics, commented: "I am surprised. Surprised, indeed."

When the conference refused Maryland permission to go to the Sugar Bowl, Dr. Byrd wasted no time announcing Maryland planned to play in the game over the protests. Byrd said Maryland "acted in good faith" in accordance with past conference procedures in accepting the invitation.

Gavilan Rallies From Brink Of Defeat To Stop Cartier In Final Round Of Garden Bout

Gavilan weighed 151 and Cartier 159 1/2 for the non-title fight. The welter champion from Havana, giving eight and one-half pounds to his rugged middleweight rival from New York's Greenwich Village, staked a sensational spurt to pull the bout out of the fire.

Cartier reeled from a savage left uppercut and wavered when Gavilan poured home a smashing right to the jaw early in the tenth. As the Cuban Keed swarmed in for the end with a flurry of blows, Cartier crumpled to the canvas in full retreat. Referee Ruby Goldstein quickly halted the bout without bothering to pick up the count, fearing that Cartier might have been hurt seriously.

Crouch
Time after time Gavilan crouched so low in his attempts to nullify Cartier's body blows that he almost touched the canvas. Then he'd bounce up on his toes to jab at Cartier's head or drive home a solid right.

In the third Gavilan seemed to have his man on the way as Cartier floundered twice under a two-fisted battering. Once Cartier's legs wobbled and he almost went down. He weathered the storm and came back to trade punches in a wild toe-to-toe exchange.

Gavilan seldom used his famed bolo punch as he conducted himself with deep respect for his foe and his 20-fight win streak. All through the fight Cartier bled freely from the nose while Gavilan's seconds worked with an ice bag on his left eye and patched up his right ear between rounds.

The crowd of 6,253 that paid $23,637 roared when Cartier, the six to five underdog, made Gavilan cover with his aggressive body attack in the fourth and fifth. His lunging right to the body thrown at long range sent the Keed into that semi-squat that "Paddy" DeMarco used effectively last week against Sandy Saddler.

With the fight hanging in the balance, Gavilan cut loose in the eighth, ninth, and tenth to rescue a lost cause. A good series of head punches shook Cartier in the closing seconds of the eighth, a solid hook repeated the trick in the ninth. Then came the rousing surge in the tenth.

Schroeder was somewhat of a disappointment to the American coach in the doubles. He may be replaced by Seixas against the Australians although the doubles team was supposed to have been "all set."

Davidson, his younger partner, put up a strong fight but couldn't do it all by himself.

After the first set, the match turned into a rout to the disappointment of 6,000 fans who hoped to see one close contest after watching the lopsided singles.

The fifth and final match between the two countries is slated to follow today.

Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference Rejects Penn's Plan For Televising Games

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, (AP) — The Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference yesterday rejected University of Pennsylvania's proposal for unrestricted televising of college athletic events and took a stand against football bowl games.

At the same time the ECAC went on record as opposed to any tournament or contest not controlled by a collegiate organization.

The football bowl action taken by the 89 member colleges, conformed with recommendations made Thursday by a committee of ten college presidents named to investigate evils in college athletics.

Athletic director Francis T. Murray presented Pennsylvania's unrestricted television idea. Penn opposed the NCAA's restricted program for televising football games last season.

The conference, after tabling Murray's resolution, approved one presented by Ralph Furey, Columbia's athletic director and head of the TV committee.

Resolution
Furey's resolution, calling for a national supervised program, forbids any member of the conference to enter into any commitment or contract until the NCAA takes final action and would limit ECAC competition to NCAA members in good standing or colleges which are in compliance with NCAA policies after final action is taken.

The NCAA meets January 6 in Cincinnati.

At the same time, delegates rejected resolutions which would curb or eliminate spring football practice and which would call for a review of the unlimited substitution rule.

A committee was formed to study "actual and desirable practices in all sports as to length of season, number of contests, length of out of season practice, size of squads to be dressed for games and related topics."

The committee was asked to make a report to a special conference meeting next spring. The group favored a resolution restricting basketball practice. Under the adopted proposal, no cage drills can start before November 1 and none can be staged after the season is over.

Discussion of post-season bowl games has dominated most of the meetings of the various top ranking athletic conferences since the close of the 1951 football campaign.

Crowe's Fives In Third Spot

Despite a three-point loss at the hands of Himmer's Cleaners last Saturday, Crowe's Insurance is currently holding down third place in the Delaware Valley League and is still within shooting distance of the top spot, held by the Philadelphia Elks.

Crowe's contingent is currently rolling along with a mark of 23 games won and 25 lost, while second place Capuro's Service has won 31 games and lost a total of 17.

However, fourth place Dainty Potato Chips is breathing heavily on the back of the East Stroudsburg contingent. Dainty Potato Chips has won 22 and lost 26 games.

Crowe's five and Dainty Potato Chips clash in Easton on Saturday, with third place at stake.

Delaware Valley League standings follow:

	W	L
Philadelphia Elks	34	14
Capuro's Service	31	17
Crowe's Insurance	23	25
Dainty Potato Chips	22	26
Himmer's Cleaners	21	27
Flea Club	20	28
Drucker and Young	19	29
Himmer's Cleaners	19	29
